Venice, June 6, N. S.

THE moſt Serene Aloiſe Mocenigo, Doge of this Republick, died a few Days ago. On the 2d Inſtant the Procurator Carlo Ruzini was elected Doge, and the Day following was crowned with the uſual Solemnity. He has ſerved this Republick in the moſt important Offices of State, having been formerly Ambaſſadour at the Courts of Madrid and Vienna, and ſince that at the Congreſſes of Ryſwick and Utrecht, and at the Treaties of Carlowitz and Paſſarowitz, and was alſo twice Ambaſſadour at Conſtantinople. Yeſterday the Great Council choſe Signor Carlo Piſani Procurator of St. Mark, in the Room of the new Doge.

Whitehall, June 12.

It was omitted in the Paragraph from Sheerneſs, in laſt Saturday's Gazette, That Captain Evans, Lieutenant-Governour of that Fort, paid his humble Duty to his Majeſty, was very graciouſly received, and had the Honour to kiſs his Majeſty's Hand; and on his Majeſty's paſſing by to the Nore, he ſaluted him from the Fort with Sixty One Guns.

From on Board the William and Mary Yacht at Helvoetſluys, June 10, 1732.

On Wedneſday laſt at Nine in the Morning we weighed from Sheerneſs, and ſtood down the Swin with a ſmall Gale at S. E. But at Six that Evening, the Wind blowing freſh Eaſterly, we anchored a-breaſt off the Hook of the Gunfleet; at Eight we weighed again, and turned down with the Ebb, with a freſh Gale at E. N. E. On Thurſday Morning at Two of the Clock, we anchored open with the Slade-Way, and at Eight we weighed again with the Ebb, and turned out with freſh Gales at E. N. E. At Eight in the Evening, having Orford Church W. by N. diſtant two Leagues, ſtood off to Sea with very freſh Gales at E. by N. Yeſterday about Two of the Clock in the Afternoon made Weſt Capel, bearing S. S. E. diſtant five Leagues; at Four, the Tide being done, we anchored in 13 Fathom Water, and at Nine in the Evening we weighed again, and plyed to Windward with freſh Gales Eaſterly. At Five this Morning Goree bore E. diſtant four Leagues; and at Six, the Ebb running ſtrong out, we anchored again, Goree bearing E. S. E. At Ten we weighed again with freſh Gales Eaſterly, and plyed up to this Place.

Whitehall, June 12.

Early this Morning Mr. Over, one of His Majeſty's Meſſengers, came Expreſs from Helvoetſluys, with the welcome News of His Majeſty's ſafe Arrival there on Saturday the 10th Inſtant, about Three in the Afternoon, God be praiſed, in good Health, and that his Majeſty was then going on ſhore, in order to proceed on his Journey to Hanover.

AT the Court at Kenſington the 15th Day of June, 1732.
